Pousada Monte de Santa Luzia

- Europe
- Portugal - Viana do Castelo

Located in the North of Portugal and carved into a hill that overlooks the city of Viana do Castelo, the Pousada Monte de Santa Luzia results from the perfect refurbishment of a hotel built in the beginning of the past century by a rich local inhabitant as a gift to his city.

Its location is perfect. Surrounded by green gardens and woods this historical hotel also offers an ample and magnificent view onto the city and its former port, over the delta of Lima River and a large expanse of golden sand beaches bathed by an ocean of intense blue.

The windows and balconies of the rooms at the front of the building allow this to be appreciated to its fullest extent and one can become lost in the view they offer. One can also benefit from this unique scenery at the restaurant and the panoramic terraces, whilst one indulges in the rich dishes to be chosen from a menu of regional and international cuisine.

In this discrete and tranquil place one can organise special corporate events or spend a relaxing vacation where one can improve one's tennis game, attempt water sports or venture onto the Monte de Santa Luzia to visit its church, climb to its summit and discover all its secrets.

Discover the history of Braga and relax on a terrace overlooking the pool.

The Pousada São Vicente, a palace from the late 19th century recently converted into a charming and comfortably small hotel, is located in Braga, a short distance from the city's historical centre.

The architecture and the lovely gardens surrounding the edifice create a romantic and relaxing ambiance that is complemented by the welcoming and tasteful decor. Should you opt for the new wing of the hotel the rooms are modern in style while the rooms in the ancient wing preserve period and rustic furnishings to be discovered.

During your stay you may appreciate the paintings and sculptures that constitute a constant presence along the halls and sitting rooms, and you may also relax at the bar that spreads out onto a terrace overlooking the pool.

Benefit from the centrality of Pousada São Vicente to see the city of Braga and to visit its monuments, sanctuaries and the Falperra Mountain during the day. During the evening, savour the regional gastronomy at one of the various restaurants in Braga and enjoy yourself at the city's bars and discos.

Pousada Santa Marinha

- Europe
- Portugal - Guimarães

On the hill overlooking the historical city of Guimarães the majestic Pousada Santa Marinha rises up, fruit of the refurbishment of the ancient Agostinhos Convent from the 12th century.

This convent, initially a school of higher studies for the monks of the Order of Saint Agostinho, was left seriously derelict in the 20th century following a fire. The recuperation works conducted years later were able to transform the formerly cold spaces of yesteryear into warm and comfortable environments of today. The achievements of this project were recognised with the 1985 National Architecture Award.

Luxurious pieces of furniture from the convent's estate were used and out of the monks cells rooms were created. Other spaces to highlight are the rooms for events, a restaurant with varied and refined cuisine and a cosy bar with the perfect fireplace to warm the coldest nights.

At this hotel, niches with granite fountains, priceless tile panels, secular cloisters, balconies and terraces directed at the landscape await being found. On the outside there is also a swimming pool, small gardens and the beautiful surrounding Penha park.

A cultural visit to Guimarães, the birthplace of Portugal, along with activities such as golf, various strolls, horseback riding or cycling are recommended to enrich the day.

Feel at home like a king where Portugal was born.

In Praça da Ribeira, in the historical centre of the city of Porto, one finds the Pestana Porto hotel, perfectly integrated into the scenery of the riverside area which offers an amazing view onto the Douro River and a unique experience.

Partially set into the ancient Medieval wall of the city, it occupies a picturesque set of buildings recovered from the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries which still retain their original façade and were recently recognised as a World Heritage site.

The hotel's rooms are customised and present special characteristics according to the building in which they are found as well as a contemporary decor designed for comfort and with attention to details.

At the restaurant, with its warm and relaxing atmosphere, allow yourself to be tempted by the innovative dishes or by the traditional flavours of the region of Portugal. Also enjoy a drink at the bar to exchange ideas or to groove to the sound of jazz or bossa nova.

The location of the Pestana Porto is perfect for venturing into the streets and alleys of the historical centre, to appreciate its architecture and monuments and visit the museums and famous Port Wine cellars on the South bank of the river.

Casas do Côro

- Europe
- Portugal - Mêda - Marialva

The Casas do Côro are located in the heart of the Medieval Marialva, a historical Portuguese village, in a region where the signs of man reach as far back as the Palaeolithic era.

The refurbishment of these centuries old houses and the harmonious combination of the structures' granite with the refined decor are an astonishing surprise. The feel is rustic, yet doesn't compromise the comfort demanded by the times and afforded by the surrounding space.

From the panoramic terraces the region's landscape may be appreciated, replete with hills, deep valleys and meandering rivers, a constant invitation to the practice of sports or the enjoyment of unforgettable walks.

Relish in the traditional sweets early in the morning and avoid missing a fulfilling lunch characteristic of the local gastronomy, well accompanied by wine from the cellar and vineyard of Casas do Côro.

Beyond Marialva there are four more historical villages not to be missed, several castles, archaeological circuits and the Côa's famous Palaeolithic rock engravings.

After exploring the magnificent landscape, enjoy an evening in great company.

Pousada Convento de Belmonte

Nestled in a small mountain, with the village of Belmonte, the birthplace of Pedro Álvares Cabral, only a kilometre away, lies the Pousada Convento de Belmonte.

This historical pousada emerged from the refurbishment of a small 13th century chapel and the ruins of the ancient Nossa Senhora da Esperança Convent, classified in 1986 as a public interest edifice.

This convent's lengthy history has been preserved and utilised to achieve the perfect combination of the historical elements, the architecture, the cosy decor of the sitting rooms and the comfort of the pousada's rooms.

Enjoy a dip in the pool, appreciate the valley view from the exceptional terrace and savour the regional gastronomic specialities of the restaurant. Perhaps, acquire a sculpture from the permanent exhibition of artworks by local artists.

Be sure to try the hiking paths, the horses or to experiment the excitement of a 4-wheel drive. Other enticing possibilities include fishing and winter sports, as well as delving into the beauty of Serra da Estrela natural park.

Pousada Convento do Desagravo

- Europe
- Portugal - Oliveira do Hospital - Vila Pouca da Beira

In the tiny Vila Pouca da Beira, beautifully framed into the mountainous landscape of Northern Portugal amongst villages replete with history, the Pousada Convento do Desagravo is nestled in a building that dates from the 18th century.

Legend has it that this convent was built under the orders of Bishop Count Francisco de Lemos de Faria Pereira in the year 1780 and was converted into a military hospital nearly 100 years later.

Today, after meticulous recovery and restoration work the charm of those times was conserved and it was adapted to contemporary needs.

The bedrooms and living rooms in this hotel are decorated in a modern, attractive and comfortable style. From the restaurant, specialising in regional dishes, there is access to an ample terrace with a relaxing view onto the pine trees in the garden, where a swimming pool and tennis court can be found.

Close by, the picturesque villages of Piodão and Linhares can be explored, canoeing or fishing can be attempted in the Alva River, hunting or rock climbing and even winter sports are available in the neighbouring Serra da Estrela.

Witness the historical past and the romantic present.

Located in the village of Lousã, in the centre of Portugal and harboured in a 18th century building qualified as historical heritage, the former Palace of the Salazares is today a classic and sophisticated hotel, the Palácio da Lousã.

Built by Bernardo Salazar, the palace remained the property of his family until 1893 when it was purchased by João Antunes dos Santos, native to Lousã. Some of his descendents are today the hotel's proprietors.

Its history includes episodes from the French Invasions, a period during which it lodged French troops as well as Portuguese and English ones. To preserve the memories of the past, as well as the palace's character, the process of creating the hotel was carefully thought out to ensure a customized experience with modern comforts in historical surroundings.

The architectural details from that epoch are still present, as well as the doors and wainscoting, the ceilings and stucco, the staircase at the entrance and the frescoes in the living room. The decor of the lounges and rooms of the palace is distinctively classical, emphasising refinement and tradition. The design in the new wing, adjacent to the garden, is contemporary and relaxed in a minimalist spirit.

Once outside the hotel set out to discover the Lousã Mountain, which can be seen in the distance, as you practice adventure sports, hike or enjoy swimming in the river. The region is also rich in museums and monuments which suggest enticing cultural excursions to Coimbra and the famous Roman ruins of Conímbriga.

Hotel Lusitano

- Europe
- Portugal - Golegã

In Golegã, at the heart of the Ribatejo region in the centre of Portugal, the Hotel Lusitano stands out due to its charm, elegance and the experience of complete tranquillity and harmony it offers.

In this attractively designed hotel the historical and cultural value of the old house, an ancient building representative of traditional Portuguese architecture, have been combined with the more modern style of a new wing. Its name celebrates the Lusitano horse, the oldest saddle horse in the world, known for nearly 5.000 years.

The atmosphere is warm and inviting, conceived for your well-being, and juxtaposes traditional elements with modern design. Enjoy the comfort and design of the rooms and while on the terrace appreciate the rich cuisine of the region.

There is also a Spa at the hotel, conceived for physical and emotional renovation, where you may care for your body, relax with anti-stress or special massages and try an invigorating Vichy shower.

Become acquainted with the equestrian and bull-fighting art of the region, its centuries old traditions, its monumental heritage and its environmental diversity. Hotel Lusitano beckons.

A photograph of a swimming pool in a garden. In the foreground, two white lounge chairs with striped cushions are on a green lawn, flanking a small white plastic table. A young tree is planted between the chairs. The pool is in the middle ground, with a white wall featuring gold-colored decorative scrollwork behind it. The background is a stone wall and dense green foliage. A large white umbrella is partially visible at the top right. The text "Rest, read and dream, nestled in a valley between the mountain and the sea." is overlaid on the left side of the pool.

Rest, read and dream,
nestled in a valley
between the mountain and the sea.

Close to a small creek, curiously named Bull River, along a sheltered and luxuriant valley facing the ocean and in the depths of the Sintra-Cascais natural park, lies the distinguished Quinta do Rio Touro.

The manor's centuries old houses, previously in ruins and lost amidst the wild vegetation, were recovered after a long and careful restoration process. Currently these houses preserve their original architectural style and the charm of the past whilst offering all the comforts of today.

The interior design is personalised, the common living areas are replete with genuine antiques and classical and modern paintings, the rooms are spacey and offer superb views of the gardens and the valley with the sea in the horizon.

Take the opportunity of diving into the pool, simply relax or wander through the gardens, orchards and vegetable patches of Quinta do Rio Touro. You may even wish to learn a bit more about the biological agriculture practiced there.

Be sure to visit both the historical village of Sintra and the lively village of Cascais, attempting all the leisure and sports activities the surroundings have to offer.

Hotel Albatroz

- Europe
- Portugal - Cascais

“Tiny Almond Box” the pet name of the ancient palace of the Dukes of Loulé, is today, the prestigious Hotel Albatroz, a luxury hotel situated by the sea in the village of Cascais.

This 19th century palace, designed by Ávila, the renowned architect, was constructed by the Duke of Loulé in 1873 and served as the private residence of several families until 1963, when it was converted into a guest house.

In 1983, following extensive remodelling and amplification works, it was transformed into a modern and luxurious hotel in keeping with the charisma and refinement of its history, and the beauty of its architectural style.

The sumptuous and elegant decor in soft colours effuses the charm of a private residence and reveals itself to be both comfortable and warm. The rooms and ample suites benefit from the calming view of the sea, also present at the restaurant and perfectly in harmony with the unique menu of fish and seafood.

During the day, the proximity of the beaches and the marina offer the opportunity to practice countless water sports. In the evening, be sure to explore the vibrant village of Cascais as a complement to an unforgettable stay.

Dive into a salt water pool and relax to the sound of waves lapping on the rocks.

Encrusted in the centre of Cascais, directly over its attractive bay is the relaxing Villa Albatroz. The perfect and sophisticated setting is the guarantee of a memorable stay.

The building once belonged to the Dukes of Palmela, was the private residence of the writer Maria Amália Vaz de Carvalho and the poet Gonçalves Crespo, and a convenient locale for many other writers and poets of the time. The cultural heritage, combined with the aesthetic beauty of the house was the motivation behind the recognition the building's status as an edifice of historical, cultural and architectural interest.

Luxury and taste are omnipresent throughout Villa Albatroz. The rooms display distinct and personalised natures inspired in the Dona Maria style that creates a pleasant period atmosphere, both comfortable and charming.

Excellent views are a constant that can be appreciated from the rooms, the restaurant or the terrace. The quality service reveals the care invested into receiving the guests.

The privileged location invites the guest to become acquainted with the village of Cascais, to explore all the entertainment and distractions it offers, but to also practice water sports, hike along the coast or indulge in exciting boat trips.

Senhora da Guia

- Europe
- Portugal - Cascais

Located between Cascais and Guincho beach, between the sea and the golf courses, Senhora da Guia offers the perfect combination of sophisticated ambiance and quality service.

The rooms and sitting areas, distributed throughout three buildings, are surprising due to their attractive design, the taste of the decor, and the refinement and comfort of the furniture. A number of the rooms provide direct access to the ample gardens and to the salt water pools, while the others offer snug terraces and a superb ocean view.

Senhora da Guia is ideally located for those who wish to explore the varied beaches nearby, to sunbathe or even to practice numerous water sports, whether one prefers the calmer waters of Cascais bay or the wild sea of Guincho beach.

Alternatively, the hotel offers excellent conditions at several world renowned golf courses. Particularly worthy of mention are Quinta da Marinha, Quinta da Beloura and the courses at Oitavos Golfe or Penha Longa.

At the start of the evening, after a day well spent, relax on the terrace by the pool before savouring a delectable fish dish at Senhora da Guia's restaurant.

Style and royal life rocked by the ocean.

In the cosmopolitan town of Cascais, situated just a few kilometers from Lisbon, the Grande Real Villa Itália can be found. A sumptuous hotel where one can breathe in the ocean and the luxury of a surprising classical modern style.

This hotel is the fruit of the remodelling of Villa D'Este and the extension of Villa Itália. These were the Portuguese residences of King Humberto II of Italy during his forced exile following the establishment of the Republic in his country. The result is a set of attractive classically designed buildings inserted into an area with peaceful gardens, terraces with an ocean view and salt-water pools.

The interior contains grand spaces with opulent and sophisticated decor that convey the idea of being in a contemporary palace. In the ample rooms, delightful details like a gourmet minibar or a relaxing view of the sea from the balconies stand out.

The Belvedere offers refined cuisine of Portuguese and Mediterranean influences deserving to be savoured on the sunny terrace. At the end of the afternoon or in the evening, the live music is an invitation from La Terraza bar.

Your stay at the Villa Itália would be incomplete without experiencing the Thalassotherapy circuit or the Vichy douche at the Real Spa Marine, a sanctuary of Roman inspiration and a refuge for your body and mind.

Farol Design Hotel

- Europe
- Portugal - Cascais

The old Farol guest house, once a 19th century mansion owned by the Count of Cabral, was carefully refurbished becoming the current Farol Design Hotel, adjacent to the marina in the historical centre of Cascais.

The audacious renovation project, involving the expansion of the ancient building, achieved the perfect link between past and present by combining the attractive and classical mansion with the modern lines of the new complex.

The attention to design is a concern also present on the inside, starting with a balanced comfortable design of the interior space, created by renowned architects, and carries on through to the sober yet cosy rooms, some of which were designed by leading Portuguese fashion designers.

Enjoy local and international gastronomy at the panoramic restaurant. While relaxing on the terrace, feel the ocean at arm's length and take a refreshing dip into the salt water pool.

Bask in the privileged climate and experiment the activities Farol Design Hotel has imagined for you, venture to the different beaches that dot the coastline and have fun in the relaxed village of Cascais.

Settle into your designer chair

Located in Lisbon close to the Parque Eduardo VII and the Marquês de Pombal, the sophisticated Real Palácio hotel is installed in adjacent buildings where the Guedes Quinhones palace replete with centuries of history, stands out.

This palace, a characteristic example of the Chão style, was built in the 17th century and was the residency of the Quinhones for ten generations. The more recent buildings currently make up the hotel's new wings.

After being refurbished the palace still shows its original lines and retains inside its 1700s tile panels. The original architecture and decor have permitted the various characters of the buildings to be brought together, creating comfortable spaces with a classical spirit.

The rooms are spacious and at the palace you shall find a romantic decor corresponding to the epoch. At the restaurant or on the sunny terrace you may enjoy international cuisine, at the bar or out on the attractive patio you can savour a cocktail and at the health club you can relax or exercise the body.

Come see the seven hills of the secular city of Lisbon, the typical neighbourhoods filled with life, the museums and the monuments. Whether your trip is for business or leisure, pass through Real Palácio and witness the details of attentive service.

Hotel Aviz

- Europe
- Portugal - Lisbon

Well in the centre of Lisbon, the new Hotel Aviz maintains the spirit of the Picoas Palace that had once been its home and symbolised the romantic 1940s Lisbon. Kings, movie actors, spies and the cream of society at the time all came through this hotel due to its reputation of having the most luxurious service and the best restaurant.

Currently the hotel exhibits a modern and attractive architectural style whilst retaining the charm of a classical and timeless decor. From the memory of the past, besides amassing a vast number of items from the estate of the old Aviz, its ambiance, class and tradition of good hospitality were also recovered.

Some of the refined suites bear the names and details of the celebrities that made the hotel renowned like Calouste Gulbenkian, Frank Sinatra, Ava Gardner and Eva Péron.

In a welcoming environment the famous Aviz restaurant is once again integrated into the hotel and presents a menu that is inspired by the original recipes that established its reputation, but also introduces new culinary experiences always accompanied by the best wine list and the best service.

Enjoy the bar to mingle and reminisce about the experiences of the day spent in the city of Lisbon which is also replete with tradition and history.

Relive the refinement of the past and make your own history

The Hotel Britania can be found in a 1940's building designed by Cassiano Branco, renowned contemporary architect. The set of many stories, of heated conversations between the intellectuals and artists of the time, and of war time conspiracies featuring diplomats and spies, this hotel is worthy of your stay.

Considered one of the most luxurious hotels in Lisbon, its design perfectly harmonises the Art Deco style with nationalist icons. This inheritance has been preserved and the recent restoration of the building and its antique furniture have enabled it to become listed as a building of historical interest.

The walls and the floor in the hall are covered in marble and the resulting space is illuminated by the light of the opal and bronze stroked glass deco chandeliers. The wood panelled bar heightens the objects and furniture of yesteryear. The welcoming and relaxing lounge is an invitation to listen to good music, to contemplate the fireplace or to look at pictures that witness a past richly steeped in history.

The spacious rooms also exhibit Art Deco furniture in harmony with modern textiles and warm colours. The marble bathrooms have been meticulously restored and include all the comforts that one has become accustomed to in present times.

In this hotel one lives the tranquil atmosphere of the epoch and experiences the courtesy of service that has over 50 years of tradition in hospitality. Its location is ideal to set out in search of a Lisbon that is ancient and of the Lisbon that has been completely renovated.

Hotel Lisboa Plaza

- Europe
- Portugal - Lisbon

Located next to the cosmopolitan Avenida da Liberdade, its eyes set on the botanical gardens, is the classical Hotel Lisboa Plaza, an icon of hospitality and heritage in the city of Lisbon.

Inaugurated in 1954 as the Hotel Condestável, its history is linked to the unforgettable and attractive Parque Mayer, the stage for entertainment in a Lisbon of yore that contributed to this avenue being internationally recognized.

The increase in the number of tourists visiting its cafés, theatres and houses of fado, motivated the construction of this high quality hotel. Lucínio Cruz was in charge of the architectural project and strove to promote the modernity and well-being of the guests in an innovative fashion.

The façade is austere with an international style. The enveloping spaces are full of charm and comfort thanks to the classical design conceived by Graça Viterbo and the attention given to all the details. The hotel maintains its character, harmoniously combining the tradition of its history with the demands of modern times in a spirit of great versatility.

The Hotel Lisboa Plaza is the ideal harbour to return to for a rest in its comforting rooms and to experience its family ambiance after uncovering the city's well-kept secrets.

A photograph of a classic hotel interior. In the center is a wooden armchair with a yellow and white striped fabric. To the left of the chair is a small, dark wooden side table with a decorative white lattice top. On the table sits a large, white ceramic lamp with a cream-colored, pleated lampshade. The lamp has a floral design on its base. To the right of the chair is a large, green, rectangular planter containing a leafy plant. The background wall is a warm, golden-brown color with decorative molding. Two framed pictures hang on the wall: one on the left showing a still life with a vase, and one on the right showing a plant in a pot. The overall atmosphere is warm and elegant.

In Lisbon, on the corner of the Avenida da Liberdade with the Largo da Anunciada, is a beautiful 18th century building, sober and discreet in its architectural style, which is home to the charming Heritage Av Liberdade hotel.

On this square there used to be a Monastery for Dominican nuns and the Palace of the Ericeiras, both destroyed by the 1755 earthquake. The Ericeiras were the proprietors of a large part of the land that gave rise to the Passeio Público, the current Avenida da Liberdade, and the hotel's building.

The refurbishment project was conceived by Miguel Câncio Martins, the Portuguese architect famous for his interventions at the Buddha

Bar in Paris, Strictly Hush in London and the Man Ray in New York.

The building's 18th century façade was kept, as well as the masonry and the railings on the balconies. Inside, the Pombal age tiles, the wooden portals and pieces of antique furniture were restored. The outcome is a comfortable and refined environment with a cosmopolitan feel.

Located in the heart of Lisbon's historical centre, the hotel is very close to the city's typical areas. Walk down the avenue in the direction of Rossio and Chiado, climb the hills into the Bairro Alto, Alfama or the São Jorge Castle that has watched over the city for centuries.

Solar do Castelo

- Europe
- Portugal - Lisbon

At the top of the city of Lisbon, within the walls of the São Jorge Castle, the noble Solar do Castelo was born, fruit of the refurbishment of the Palace of Kitchens, built in the second half of the 18th century on the grounds of the ancient Royal Kitchens.

The refurbishment project, developed by the architect Vasco Massapina, maintained the sober lines of the building practices from the epoch of the Marquis of Pombal. These traces are most visible on the windows and at the main door and are perfectly combined with elements of greater freedom and creativity.

On both its levels and the mansard, on the main patio and in the gardens, the signs of Medieval times and the Pombal pattern tiles, along with pastoral motifs, confer richness and originality to this small palace.

The purity of the lines of the furniture and the contemporary pieces contrast with the antiques of centuries past and the building materials of the time like stone, iron, leather and wood. Contemporary design, replete with comfort and refined details, was the choice made for the decor of the rooms.

During your stay at the Solar do Castelo enjoy the hospitality of those who excel in the art of receiving others, as well as the centuries old history of this place, the birthplace of the city of Lisbon.

Read a book
while occasionally watching the city of Lisbon from its roof tops.

Lisbon's most ancient palace, the Palácio Belmonte, is set in the historical city centre on the hill of the São Jorge Castle.

The palace was built in 1449, incorporating three towers, on a forty metre boulder over the most ancient Moor and Roman walls in the city. In 1640, the construction of a terrace and five classical façades served to augment the palace.

The refurbishment was conceived around the ancient structures of the palace, aiming to maintain the timber and steel of the time, as well as a fabulous and vast collection of 18th century tiles, that, thus, guarantee the greatest comfort in a most unique ambiance.

The rooms were decorated with an individual and modern style. Each room was named after a culturally renowned Portuguese personality and antique furniture was brought into harmony with contemporary works of art.

Its small chapel, vast collection of books and publications from its library, and the mesmerising views from its towers over the city of Lisbon are treasures not to be missed.

The extraordinarily central location of Palácio Belmonte opens the doors of the historical area of the city, its monuments and museums, its typical restaurants and exciting night life.

Bairro Alto Hotel

- Europe
- Portugal - Lisbon

With its eyes set on Luís de Camões Square and very close to the São Carlos National Theatre in Lisbon, the luxurious and cosmopolitan Bairro Alto Hotel is implanted into the former Grand Hotel de l' Europe where many renowned European artists stayed during the 19th and 20th centuries.

In 2001, almost 20 years after its closure, the successful restoration project was initiated with the aim of repositioning the hotel into the international panorama in accordance with the quality and prestige commanded by its rich history.

The building underwent an intense and brilliant architectural intervention in order to maintain its attractive aesthetic heritage. The interior design materials with French, English and Italian inspiration were used with refinement, comfort and exquisite design and harmoniously blended into the atmosphere of Lisbon and its history.

In the cosy and sophisticated rooms and suites, as in all the hotel spaces, contemporary touches were combined with details from the thirties to the fifties. The wood floors, the walnut furniture, the woollen rugs and the varied linen and silk fabrics are all of special note and perfectly accompanied by frescoes on the walls.

At the restaurant exceptional cosmopolitan cuisine can be appreciated. On the terrace, the unique sunset over the city embraced by the Tagus River should be admired. In the evening, the surrounding bohemian Bairro Alto is proof that certain things never change.

A reference to luxury
in the historical and cultural centre of Lisbon.

Located in one of the most tranquil areas of Lisbon the Pestana Palace hotel was born from the restoration and refurbishment of the former Marquês de Valle Flôr Palace, dated from the 19th century and classified as a national monument.

This majestic and attractive palace was built by an entrepreneur who made his fortune with successful agricultural endeavours in São Tomé and Príncipe. His connections to France influenced the design of the building, with styles from the Luis XIV, Regency, Luis XV and Luis XVI eras, creating a surprising historical setting.

In the impressive inner spaces the rooms and halls are ideal for parties, banquets or other prestigious events. The rooms and suites, located in a new wing, are of the utmost comfort and fully equipped. In the palace there are the luxury suites with a refined epochal decor.

From the restaurant one can appreciate the view onto the lush gardens that surround the palace and on warmer days one can also enjoy a meal served by the pool in a 19th century oriental pavilion.

A visit to the historical city of Lisbon is also recommended, wandering through the typical neighbourhoods and becoming acquainted with the main museums and monuments. At night, visit the Docas or enjoy live music at the bar of the magnificent Pestana Palace.

York House

- Europe
- Portugal - Lisbon

By the Tagus River, in the centre of Lisbon and receiving guests for over a hundred years, the York House resulted from the adaptation of the early 17th century Marianos Convent.

The style adopted, the tapestries, marbles and polished wooden floor, convey respect for the convent's history, whilst creating an inviting atmosphere of charm and well-being.

A small patio replete with trees, flowers and plants is located at the centre of the building, and proves to be an ideal refuge to rest, relax and enjoy an evening drink.

The rooms, set around the patio, combine design with touches of elegance, in harmony with the style of the building, some of which offer a magnificent view of the river and the roof tops of the city.

Close-by there's an abundance of monuments and museums to visit during the day, such as the National Museum of Ancient Art, as well as plenty of restaurants, bars and discos to guarantee amusement throughout the night.

Over the years celebrities have been unable to resist the romantic appeal of York House. Upon visiting Lisbon, allow yourself to witness the same charm that enticed John Le Carré, Marcello Mastroianni and Marguerite Duras.

Open the windows and let in romance from an epoch gone by.

Next to the Ancient Art Museum, in the historical and romantic Rua das Janelas Verdes, there is an austere and discreet stately house to behold, dating from the 18th century. This is a house where one wants to discover every detail, feel its romantic and welcoming atmosphere and relive the stories of a past Lisbon.

Tradition has it that this ancient palace belonging to the Count of Sabugosa was the residence and inspiration for Eça de Queirós's "O Ramalhete", the famous house featured in his masterpiece "Os Maias". The memory of his presence lives on in the period mood that surrounds and envelopes us.

Its neo-classical interior features a living room that exalts the fireplace, the ancient piano, the furniture, the books, the paintings and the small artworks. An elegant spiral staircase leads into the large, cheerful and sunny rooms. From the library a romantic garden is visible, the iron tables and chairs, the small fountain and the climbing plant wound into the iron stairs climbing into the balconies of the rooms all catch the eye.

The city of Lisbon and its Tagus River take their place as the background for the hotel As Janelas Verdes, lost in time yet such an admirable combination of the past and the present that it warrants a visit.

Páteo dos Solares

- Europe
- Portugal - Estremoz

The romantic Páteo dos Solares is located where the São José Fortress once stood in the 17th century, in the white and picturesque city of Estremoz in the heart of the High Alentejo. The building was recently rebuilt, restored and declared a site of municipal heritage interest.

Its interior holds cosy rooms equipped with great amenities, some even include a fireplace and a hydromassage tub, and all have characteristic details.

There are also several spaces for enjoying the company of others, for fun or for relaxation, as well as unique rooms for organizing events. The bar and the terrace open onto the garden and the exterior swimming pool invite one to relax.

Comforted by the warmth of a fireplace and in the midst of ancient tile panelling, experiment the flavours of the region complemented by traditional Portuguese cuisine sublimely prepared by the Alzulaich restaurant.

The central location of the hotel is the perfect starting point for exploring the Estremoz and the Alentejo region. Páteo dos Solares has created excellent programmes to guide guests on trips through the vast plains discovering the neighbouring historical cities and their monuments or just enjoying stimulating outdoor activities.

An open door to immense plains and historical cities.

In the centre of the Alentejo and in a vast valley in Arraiolos, the lines of an ancient 16th century monastery were drawn and have now been transformed into the Pousada Nossa Senhora da Assunção.

At this historical pousada the whiteness and austere architecture, characteristic of these buildings, have been perfectly combined with attractive and simple contemporary design, creating a lovely and cosy feel in all its spaces.

We suggest putting the diet on hold so that you may delight in the typical cuisine of the Alentejo found on the restaurant's menu. These extra calories can easily be burned off later with a few laps in the swimming pool overlooking the valley. A well earned rest can be taken on the sunny terrace, in the shade of the monastery's cloisters or in the tranquillity of your room.

Be sure to visit the nearby traditional village of Arraiolos with its houses dressed in blue and white, to climb to the castle that watches over it and to feel the rugs that have become its claim to worldwide fame. You may also wish to venture slightly further out and arrive in Évora, Estremoz or Vila Viçosa, a few of the places in the Alentejo that shouldn't be missed.

As an alternative to a day of culture, a more active day can be planned with a tennis match, canoeing, attempting to hunt partridge or exploring the plains of the Alentejo.

Pousada Dom João IV

- Europe
- Portugal - Vila Viçosa

In the Chagas de Cristo Royal Convent founded by the Duques of Bragança in the beginning of the 16th century, which has for many years made the charming Vila Viçosa in the Alentejo even more beautiful, the Pousada Dom João IV was built.

Restored with authenticity and maintaining all the original architecture, the atmosphere transports us to another reality and to times of monasticism. The successive constructions of cells, oratories and retreats that were built by the religious Clarissas who sought shelter in this ancient convent are all still perfectly visible.

The bedrooms of this historical pousada, distinct and varied, are characterised by being labyrinthine and thematically based on the legends and tales of the past. On the ceilings and walls we find references to antiquity and the history of the spaces, of which the paintings and the tile panels should be highlighted.

The cuisine is based on the delicious traditional and conventual recipes of the Alentejo region, replete with divine flavours and aromas that must be experienced.

A visit to Vila Viçosa is obligatory to become acquainted with its streets, museums and monuments, without neglecting trips to the neighbouring localities of Estremoz, Évora or Borba which are just as rich in history and culture.

Delight in the regional gastronomy
after an invigorating walk through the mountainside.

Amidst the immense Alentejo landscape, nestled into 600 hectare estate between Estremoz and Redondo lies the Convento de São Paulo, constructed in 1182 by hermits who valued tranquillity, well-being and prayer.

Currently converted into a hotel, Convento de São Paulo perpetuates, to this day, the atmosphere valued by the hermit monks. By complementing an almost millenary history with the comfort of today, this hotel has become a unique destination.

The sumptuous collection of Portuguese tiles, the terracotta bas-reliefs, the frescoes, a Florentine fountain and the old church, all justify the public interest classification obtained and will certainly also be worth your stay.

Some rooms are set in the convent's ancient cells but possess all the comforts of modern life. The restaurant, the canteen where the hermits had their meals, serves the Alentejo's regional dishes elaborated with produce from the estate and accompanied by wine from its cellar.

The day can be enthusiastically spent discovering all of nature's wealth and the vast heritage of ancient civilisations, from Pre-historic monuments to Gothic constructions, or the Roman roads and temples littered all over the estate and the Alentejo in general.

Night time is enveloped by an unequalled tranquillity where the charm and quiet of Convento de São Paulo, is gently rocked by the sounds of nature that invite a well-deserved rest.

Convento do Espinheiro

• Europe
 • Portugal - Évora

Located close to the city of Évora, well in the heart of the vast plains of the Alentejo, is the ancient and recently refurbished Convento do Espinheiro, a convent currently transformed into a surprising luxury hotel.

The convent has its origins in a legend that tells of an apparition of the Virgin Mary on a thorn bush. In 1458, given the importance of this place as a destination for pilgrimages, a church and later a convent were built and even hosted the Kings of Portugal.

Currently, after three years of refurbishment work, the building retains its character, with an attractive style that respects its history and also a luxurious interior design. The rooms and suites, fully equipped to guarantee your utmost comfort, are distributed throughout the new wing and the convent.

Several details that reflect the harmony of the past intertwined with the present stand out brilliantly. In the former wine cellar a refined gourmet restaurant has been created. The kitchen once used by the monks has been converted into a unique piano bar and the Gothic cistern has been transformed into a delightful area for tasting regional products and wines.

During your stay be sure not to miss the relaxing Spa treatments which fuse the highest quality natural ingredients with contemporary and ancestral therapeutic techniques. Also be sure to take the opportunity to visit the historical centre of Évora, a World Heritage site.

A luxurious experience in a historical atmosphere.

A few kilometres from the city of Lisbon, the Pousada Dom Afonso II can be found in Alcácer do Sal, with the luxuriant green valley of the Sado River as its background and surrounded by charming plains. An idyllic refuge carefully guarded in a millenary castle.

In this castle, marked by the passage of five thousand years of history that goes back as far as the Neolithic era, one can witness the remains of several cultures such as the Phoenician, the Arabic and the Roman.

Currently converted into a historical pousada it offers all the comforts of today accompanied by the high quality of the service. The decor and design for the interiors and the rooms are exquisite and contemporary in harmonious contrast to the building's imposing architecture.

In the restaurant the most delicious typical regional dishes can be savoured and in unique spaces for events, conferences or banquets can be organised for businesses or for private hire.

The day can be filled with the most diverse activities ranging from golf, canoeing on the river, strolling through the paths of the Sado estuary's protected zones, going up in a hot-air balloon or enjoying the sunshine on the beaches with the golden sand and the blue sea of the Tróia Peninsula or Sesimbra.

Hotel Dom Carlos Regis

- Europe
- Portugal - Monchique

Perfectly integrated into the natural landscape which frames the Caldas de Monchique Spa complex in the Algarve, the Hotel Dom Carlos Regis is the ideal departure point to benefit from the health and well-being Spa therapy can offer.

History in this place is long, dating back to Roman times, the first to enjoy these thermal waters, continuing through the Portuguese monarchy, passing by ecclesiastical hands before belonging to the state, all of which throughout the years built the infrastructures for an optimal use of the potential of this spa.

Recently, already under the guidance of the new owners, extensive renovation and refurbishment works were conducted on the entire site to endow the complex with modern equipment whilst maintaining the harmony with the surrounding natural environment.

The hotel has also benefited from this restoration and now presents ample rooms and suites with a view of the mountain, a comfortable lounge and a charming pub where one can enjoy a night cap.

Before or after completing a reinvigorating Spa treatment, explore the surrounding environment and find, amongst the trees, a restaurant with regional and international cuisine, an adorable terrace and a craft store where a keepsake of an unforgettable stay can be purchased.

Feel the balance between the blueness of the sky and the greenness of the mountain.

Hotel Central is ensconced in the beautiful Monchique mountain ridge in the South of Portugal, within the Caldas de Monchique Spa Village, a small and unique thermal Spa in the Algarve.

After recent renovation this secular hotel has recovered the charm of the 19th century and combined it with indispensable modern comforts. The rooms are comfortable and the lounge area acquired the charm of a private residence.

The Spa benefits from the medicinal properties of the local thermal water that helps to reestablish the natural balance of the body and mind through several well-being programs, which include special baths and jet showers, varied massages, localised and general therapies amongst many other treatments for you to enjoy.

Besides the Spa, this village that merges into the mountain offers well equipped spaces to organise corporate events, a restaurant and terrace by the central square that offers delicious regional flavours, a cosy bar and outdoor swimming pools.

The location is excellent, allowing an enjoyment of the mountain, with trails for those who love leisurely strolls and the ideal conditions for those wishing to test their endurance on more extreme activities. Close to Monchique the beaches on the coast of the Algarve are an invitation to a refreshing dip in the sea.

- Portugal - Monchique

The small and cosy Estalagem Dom Lourenço hides in the Algarve mountain ridge and is part of the stimulating Caldas de Monchique Spa Village, a modern Spa complex.

This hotel dates from the 17th century when the construction of the ancient inn, where it is currently implanted, began. Today it is completely refurbished and renovated. Inside, both the delightful living room with a fireplace and the comfortable rooms display a classical simple style that represents the height of good taste.

On the terrace, with a view of the trees in the picturesque square, enjoy regional snacks. To savour a more elaborate meal be sure to visit the 1692 restaurant whose name honours the date of the first recorded public uses of the mountain ridge's Spa waters.

Like the first Romans that established themselves here, enjoy the medicinal properties of this water. Dive into the hydromassage pool, take a Vichy or jet shower and complete the experience with a relaxing massage.

If there is still courage to leave this paradise for the body and mind, enjoy long strolls through the mountain trails surrounded in luxuriant green nature.

A natural paradise

On a cliff above the sea in Southern Portugal's Algarve, the distinguished Vila Joya hotel shines like a precious stone offering exclusivity, luxury and good taste.

Having once been a Portuguese style vacation house, now refurbished with touches of Moorish inspiration, the Vila Joya is surprising in the ethnic and luxurious style of its decor that transports us into an elegant Oriental palace.

The property's exposure and the luminosity it offers are perfect. The green of the Mediterranean gardens, the yellow of the beach and the blue of the Atlantic Ocean accompany us throughout the different spaces, flooding them with floral and maritime fragrances.

This landscape can be appreciated from the terrace where breakfast is served, from the bar where the sunset can be enjoyed and from the restaurant where flavours, imagined by the chef and awarded Michelin Stars, can be savoured. Also from the rooms and suites, all comfortable and different, one can wake up to this unique scenery.

With dedicated service guaranteed, this is the place to enjoy the best the Algarve has to offer, from the radiant sunshine or endless beaches and private bays to the best golf courses in the world.

Pousada Convento da Graça

- Europe
- Portugal - Tavira

The Pousada Convento da Graça is located in Southern Portugal, in the historical centre of Tavira, a typical city in the Algarve with an inheritance of ancient civilizations. It has been a Phoenician colony, populated by Romans and also an important city during the Arab occupation.

This building was the convent of the Santo Agostinho Hermits founded by D. Sebastião around 1569. Recently transformed into a hotel, it was refurbished in a way that benefits from its heritage and ancient architecture.

The façade onto the main square and the noble Baroque inspired staircase, the Renaissance cloister from the 16th and 17th century, as well as the Arab archaeological remains discovered during the refurbishment all stand out.

The rooms are varied and comfortable. The common areas are welcoming and offer everything needed to enjoy a few days away, to celebrate a special occasion at a banquet or to organise a corporate event.

The city of Tavira, its 37 churches and Moorish castle invite a more in depth view, as well as the neighbouring Ria Formosa natural park with its never ending beaches.

A private garden with a view of the sea.

The Monte do Casal is nestled in an area of quiet countryside in the Algarve, quite close to the historical village of Estoi, just a few kilometres from Faro International Airport.

This hotel with customised service was born from an attractive 18th century country house, recently refurbished, removed from the hectic bustle of the Algarve's main cities and protected by lovely gardens with palm trees and bougainvilleas.

The interior spaces are comfortable and elegant, in the rooms the small private terraces where breakfast can be served and their views that extend from the garden into the sea are worthy of special mention.

At the award winning restaurant contemporary French inspired cuisine with local and oriental influences can be savoured, and on some evenings live music is the perfect accompaniment.

Relaxed or busy days can be spent, the choice is entirely yours. Enjoy the sun by the swimming pools or practice on the hotel's putting green. Explore the endless beaches of the coast or the famous Algarve golf courses. Find either the tranquil or the lively Algarve knowing that at Monte do Casal you will be well received.

Pousada Infante

- Europe
- Portugal - Sagres

The Pousada Infante is framed into a landscape of wilderness, a stone's throw away from the Atlantic where one finds the picturesque village of Sagres in the Algarve. From here 500 years ago Prince Henry sent out Portuguese sailors in search of new worlds for the Portuguese Crown.

The proximity to the open sea and to the waves which pound the characteristic steep cliffs of this coast and become lost in the horizon, guarantees the enthusiasm this location commands.

The view is superb and in the distance one can glimpse Cape São Vicente, the most southwestern point in Europe, where the Fortress of Sagres is found and can be visited.

The hotel is placed in an ideal way to hear and watch the sea gently entering into the rooms, a sensation that leaves no one indifferent. The restaurant also offers a unique experience to the palate, so one shouldn't hesitate to try the already famous fresh fish and seafood dishes.

Begin the day with a dip into the fantastic saltwater swimming pool. Later, feel the sand on the deserted beaches washed by the strong sea or the more agitated beaches lapped by a calm sea. At last, after a complete day, return to the hotel, relax on the terrace and inhale the sea breeze.

Set out to discover an unforgettable sensory experience.

The Quinta das Mercês is situated on Terceira island in the Azores archipelago, nestled in the Brasil Mountain natural reserve, between the ocean, gardens and a dense area of Atlantic forest.

Built in the 18th century, in keeping with typical manor architecture, the farm's large manor house is today, after undergoing an ambitious renewal and refurbishment project, a charming hotel.

In its interior the common areas and the bedrooms are wide and comfortable, decorated in a markedly classical style. Some of the bedrooms offer a small private garden and others a tranquil sea view.

The external leisure areas, the result of carefully designed landscape architecture, are harmoniously implanted into the Quinta's surrounding gardens whilst maintaining the original structure of the land.

Several sports are at your disposal. Enjoy cycling, play tennis matches or train your putting before heading out to the island's golf course. The privileged connection to the sea also allows the possibility of canoeing and fishing, or even to venture into diving and spearfishing in the midst of the Atlantic Ocean.

Whilst staying at Quinta das Mercês be sure to visit Angra do Heroísmo, a World Heritage site.

Pousada São Sebastião

- Europe
- Portugal - Azores - Terceira

The Pousada São Sebastião, located in the city of Angra do Heroísmo on the Azores's Terceira Island is superbly positioned over the sea on Porto de Pipas.

The fort that houses this hotel became known as "Castelinho" (tiny castle) and was built by order of D. Sebastião, King of Portugal, in the middle of the 16th century.

The refurbishment work allowed its transformation into a current hotel with contemporary design features. Its interior now boasts light and modern buildings, their bold design contrasting with the dark and ancient walls protecting them.

Its exposure is perfect, allowing the rooms to enjoy the intense luminosity of an exceptional sea view. This view can also be enjoyed from the restaurant and the terrace accompanied by a delectable dish of Atlantic fish.

A cultural trip into Angra do Heroísmo, a World Heritage city, is recommended as well as a boat ride along the island's coast, or even testing your chances with the sport fishing or experimenting diving into the surrounding Atlantic Ocean.

After whale watching, retire to the convent and fall asleep on a sumptuous bed.

In the South of the São Miguel island in the Azores Archipelago, is the Convento de São Francisco framed by the invigorating landscape of the Vila Franca do Campo Isle natural reserve and the sea on the horizon.

The 16th century convent was renovated and refurbished with sophistication and transformed into an elegant and beautifully austere hotel. The floor covered in exotic wood, the volcanic rock in the restrooms and the wrought iron pieces and period furniture are features that particularly stand out.

The decor of each room, baroque inspired, was designed individually, with the gold leaf wood, the rich fabrics, the fireplaces and both religious and contemporary art as the main focal points.

A short distance from the convent, the marina and small harbour of Vila Franca do Campo are the ideal setting off point for whale watching trips, for fishing, swimming and diving in the sea or in the isle's natural pool.

Enjoy the beach, a round of golf and long walks exploring the inviting mountain trails through amazingly green landscapes. Be sure to visit the lagoons of Fire and of the Seven Cities, one of São Miguel island's main attractions.

Hotel do Colégio

- Europe
- Portugal - Azores - São Miguel

The Hotel do Colégio, located in the centre of Ponta Delgada on São Miguel island, emerged from the adaptation of a 19th century urban edifice. In its history this building was a respected school and most recently served as the musical academy of the Regional Conservatory.

This building is classified as architecturally and culturally valuable due to its architecture and the design of its details strongly influenced by the typical masonry and local basalt work, prevalent in the ornamentation of the main doors, the windows, the staircase, the arches and the stone slab flooring.

With its heritage and its cultural and artistic tradition intact, this hotel has been divided into two wings: the Conservatory and the School, each in keeping with its past.

In the conservatory wing a collection of photographs from its days as a music academy can be enjoyed and each room is named after traditional music from the Azores. In the school wing, the uniforms, books and diverse school memorabilia belonging to former students is on show.

Properly settled into São Miguel island, be sure to take advantage of all it has to offer, from whale watching trips and the famous cuisine to the luxuriant landscape.

A large indoor swimming pool with a blue tiled bottom. The pool is decorated with several large, dark green lily pads floating on the surface. Numerous small, round, glowing orange and red candles are scattered throughout the pool, some resting on the lily pads and others floating freely. In the background, a large glass wall separates the pool area from a brightly lit restaurant or bar. Inside the restaurant, several people are visible, including a waiter in a white shirt and red vest standing near a table. The overall atmosphere is warm and inviting, with the pool's reflection showing the lights from the restaurant and the floating candles.

Situated atop the cliff of the typical village of Ponta do Sol, in the South of the island of Madeira, the Estalagem da Ponta do Sol is an oasis, fruit of the harmony between nature and intelligent architecture.

The origin of the Estalagem lies in the renovation of an ancient manor farm located on that spot, where the integration of a contemporary and distinct concept with the original buildings and the surrounding natural scenery was admirably achieved.

The straight lines in the structures, the simplicity of the decor and the modern design pieces create a relaxing and seductive ambiance certain to cause pleasant surprise.

The magnificent views provide a complete immersion into the landscape. At the panoramic restaurant one can enjoy the sea, the village or the banana plantations on the slopes of the hills. From the rooms' glass windows the ocean seems just a dive away and at the pool the water blends invisibly into the horizon.

Enjoy Madeira's better climate, visit the sunny village of Ponta do Sol, attempt surf and snorkelling at the various beaches and be sure to walk through "veredas" and "levadas", while taking in the contrasts between the rock lined coast and the luxuriant landscape.

Choupana Hills Resort & Spa

- Europe
- Portugal - Madeira - Funchal

Overlooking the town of Funchal, atop a hill and in the middle of a subtropical garden emerges the luxurious Choupana Hills Resort & Spa, with nature as its inspiration, a mixture of styles that characterises it and the attentive service it offers all combined to perfection.

The contemporary and exotic rooms are located in spacious bungalows with a superb view over Funchal, the bay and the Atlantic Ocean. Peculiarly constructed on pillars using wood and stone, especially the basalt typical to the region, these bungalows have the same touch of exoticism that exudes from the entire hotel.

The interior design, a cosy and simple style, is harmoniously complemented by varied works of art, from sculptures and “contadores”, to mirrors and 15th century paintings denoting African and Asian cultural influences as a tribute to the Portuguese Age of Discovery.

The mixture of influences is equally well reflected in the exciting fusion cuisine which combines the ingredients and culinary traditions of different cultures, thus offering a wide diversity of new flavours not to be missed.

Experiment the innovative relaxation methods, the massages and varied Spa treatment programs, and grasp at the chance of revitalising the body, refreshing the mind and awakening the senses.

Hospes Villa Paulita

- Europe
- Spain - Girona - Puigcerdà

The town of Puigcerdà sits on a plateau in the sunny valley of Cerdanya in the Spanish Pyrenees, neighbouring France. This scenery of refreshing mountains, snow, woods and the tranquil lake of the city frames the Villa Paulita mansion.

Originally a private vacation home, Villa Paulita is now an enchanting hotel that resulted from a project intent on preserving the spirit of the place, bringing together the antique and new, and recovering its eclectic French style architecture.

The old building is almost symmetrical with a prominent watchtower. On the ground floor there is the reception and a comfortable sitting room with a fireplace. The rooms incorporated into the next two floors are adapted to the diverse styles of the building's structure.

On the other side of the garden, and in the former stables area, an annex of rooms in keeping with the character of the rural buildings emerged. The rooms at ground level have small private patios and those on the upper floors have ample windows that invite the landscape inside.

At the restaurant, an avant-garde menu with traditional flavours and regional products can be appreciated while being in awe of the panoramic view on the lake. At the Spa, you should not miss the interior pool, the fitness areas or the treatments and massages to recharge your batteries in refinement.

Art, tradition and modernity in a Medieval village.

The Posada Casa del Abad was born in a refurbished 17th century building that stands out in the main square of Ampudia, a beautiful historical Medieval village situated close to Palencia in the Castile and Leon region in Spain.

Originally the residence of the abbot of San Miguel Abbey, this building was converted into a hotel by Ángel García Puertas, one of the proprietors and a talented architect. He has kept most of the original structures and used building materials that are typical in the region to maintain the traditional and picturesque mood of the house and the rooms, which were superbly complemented with antique furniture, contemporary design details and modern equipment.

El Arambol, the restaurant awarded a Michelin star, is a perfect example of this fusion of the past and the present that is experienced in the hotel. It is a warm and welcoming space created in the former wine cellar which serves traditional dishes brilliantly reinvented by the chef Joaquín Koerper.

At the hotel, the ideal patios to relax in can also be found, as well as a small library and rooms completely equipped for meetings or banquets. There is also a swimming pool, gym and a Spa that will offer rejuvenating bathing, massages and therapeutic experiences.

During the day, cycle through the ancient streets of the village, follow along the ruins of the wall and continue underneath the arcades of the houses until you arrive at the castle. Once there admire the vast and varied collection of art belonging to Eugenio Fontaneda, patron of the arts.

Hotel Granados 83

- Europe
- Spain - Barcelona

The contemporary Hotel Granados 83 is located in Barcelona's active and lively centre, only a step away from the main tourist, commercial and business areas.

Dating back to the beginning of the 20th century, the recently refurbished building of characteristic Barcelona architecture has a steel and iron structure that contrasts with the attractive glass and stone façade.

The decor, of utmost elegance and a Zen spirit, perfectly combines the industrial image of the structure with the details of modern well-being, accompanied by a collection of antiques and works of art. The rooms are ample and comfortable, especially those with two floors, terrace and private pool.

Whether for lunch or dinner, there is a sophisticated restaurant with a lovely patio where one may enjoy haute-cuisine dishes. There are also two attractive bars, ideal for a nightcap or late afternoon cocktail.

A few metres from the Hotel Granados 83 one finds the Rambla Catalunya and the Paseo de Gracia, two of the main avenues that lead into the city centre, the shops, surrounding museums and monuments, as well as the vibrant Barcelona nightlife.

Maximum elegance in a minimalist atmosphere.

Right in the heart of Barcelona and displaying the majestic façade of the 19th century Verduna Palace, the distinctive Hotel Claris offers a journey through time and through the history of past civilizations.

Inside, the awe-inspiring ambiance uniquely combines contemporary design with pieces of ancient art, modernity with tradition.

At the hotel's museum and throughout the other spaces there are antiques on show, being some thousands of years old. There are artefacts from ancient Egypt, Roman mosaics, Indian sculptures and also 18th and 19th century English furniture. In the luxurious rooms these testimonies of the past are present, alongside the best materials and equipment of modern times.

At the three restaurants the fusion of diverse flavours in contemporary cuisine can be savoured and, at the New York style cocktail bar, relaxation accompanies a drink to the sound of soft music.

The attractions within the vicinity of the hotel are infinite, ranging in activities from exploring the city's commercial area with its terrace cafés, restaurants and international designer stores, to wandering in the cultural part, appreciating the architecture by Antoni Gaudí, the exhibitions at the different museums, and the Gothic and Medieval parts of Barcelona.

Neri H&R

- Europe
- Spain - Barcelona

Right in the heart of Barcelona's Gothic quarter, by the Cathedral and Sant Jaume's Plaza, a renovated 18th century manor house in wood and stone stands out. Today it is the sensual hotel Neri.

The refurbishment project took into account most of the building's peculiar features, perfectly balancing historical charm with a completely contemporary charm conceived to be enjoyed and to appeal to all the senses.

Sight, sound, smell, touch and taste are all essential to understanding the details and the niches of this hotel. Furthermore, all are indispensable to apprehending the philosophy inherent to Neri.

The different spaces provide glances of various tones and relaxing music is complemented by the fresh aroma of wild plants. All the various textures invite to be touched and the dishes, aromas and delicacies of the Mediterranean cuisine stimulate the palate.

The meeting room, the library and the relaxing solarium terrace, with a combination of the five elements of equilibrium inspired by the ideals of Feng Shui, all deserve to be highlighted. The rooms, comfortable and sensual, are equipped with modern comforts and amenities. Discover Barcelona and stay at the Neri, your stay will certainly be unique and unforgettable.

Follow and enjoy the unique Modernist movement

In La Selva del Camp, close to Tarragona in the South of Catalonia, emerges the Mas Passamaner. A small yet surprising luxury hotel embedded in a 1920s mansion designed by the renowned architect, Domenech i Montaner.

The refurbishment project led by Àngel García Puertas, allowed the glamour and modernist spirit of the building to be recreated and contrasted it harmoniously with the contemporary style of other structures in the hotel grounds.

The rooms were named after famous Catalan architects as homage to the Modernist movement which served as inspiration for its personalised decor. Inside there are brief biographies and graphic material representative of their work. The royal suites stand out, dedicated to the genius of Montaner and Gaudi, they are spacious and equipped with a private swimming pool.

Here you may find everything you need for your stay, be it one of work or leisure. A set of rooms equipped for all types of events, a superior quality restaurant, and a Spa offering a wide range of health and beauty treatments, are amongst the many other infra-structures conceived for you.

In the hotel's surroundings there are also golf courses and the Golden Coast's beaches to explore. Hospes Madrid

- Europe
- Spain - Madrid

The splendid hotel Hospes Madrid is located at Plaza de la Independencia, well in the historical centre of the Spanish capital, in a 19th century building of eclectic architecture characteristic of the Restoration period.

The building was designed by the architect José Maria de Aguilar in 1883 at the request of the Duchess and widow of General Prim. After years of careful renovation, the mansion that formerly existed as a private residence has now been adapted to the needs of a contemporary hotel, with excellent service and an exclusive appeal.

With modern design, the interiors of the hotel are comfortable, attractive and elegant, in a style that is present throughout the spaces and accompanies you into your room or suite.

At the Senzone restaurant be prepared to be surprised by an experience of unforgettable cuisine. Another experience that is sure to be surprising awaits you at the Bodyna Spa, a space with rooms for various types of massages and beauty treatments for your revitalisation.

Just over there, very close-by, you can see the Retiro park and the Puerta de Alcalá and they extend an invitation for a walk and a visit. Also very close, other places of interest deserve your attention such as the Puerta del Sol, or the Prado and Thyssen Bornemisza Museums. Enjoy the city in style by staying at the Hospes Madrid.

Renovated elegance
and revitalisation with style.

The De las Letras emerged from a renovation project, by the architect Virginia Figueras, of a 1917 building situated on the emblematic Gran Via of the Spanish capital and acknowledged as Madrid historical heritage.

Completely refurbished under the inspiration of the worlds of art, culture and literature, worlds to which the hotel pays homage. To reflect this, the library and reading room for guests, as well as the interior design of the rooms, all of which face the avenues, combine quotations from famous authors with attractive state of the art design.

At De las Letras one may still have the pleasure of appreciating a fascinating collection of unique antique tiles, carpentry and balconies perfectly woven into the bold and innovative interior design.

The hotel's restaurant, directly and independently accessible, presents itself as a cornerstone to the hotel, offering a youthful and comfortable ambiance that believes in the fusion between leisure, culture and gastronomy that originates glamorous gastronomy.

Nestled in the ample plains of the Spanish Extremadura, very close to Badajoz, is the quiet 17th century Convento de La Parra, former home of the order of Saint Clara.

It is today, after undergoing a long and careful conversion, a hotel that perfectly combines the convent's past life with contemporary decor and design. The attention given to the minutiae is evident given that these spaces are simple, yet filled with details and absolute charm.

White predominates on walls, bed linen, sofas, chairs and even flowers, harmoniously contrasting with the convent's original materials, clay, wood and iron. Silence also predominates, but it's always accompanied by the refreshing sound of the water running through the Arabic fountains.

This ancient convent has been superbly refurbished. The former monastic cells, placed around the central cloister, are now cosy sitting areas and comfortable rooms. The area once taken by the convent's vegetable garden is now a refreshing swimming pool surrounded by cosy mats. The ancient refectory has been transformed into a unique dining room.

During your stay at Convento de La Parra, delight in the gastronomy of the region, specialities prepared by the restaurant and enjoy the opportunity of visiting the varied localities and castles nearby.

Casa Palacio Conde de la Corte

- Europe
- Spain - Badajoz - Zafra

Surrounded by Modernist and Neo-Plateresque buildings in the centre of the lordly town of Zafra, the small Seville, Casa Palacio Conde de la Corte stands out, having been converted into a unique and classically charming hotel.

Built in 1840, this house was the residence of Don Agustín Mendoza y Montero, Conde de la Corte, and in the middle decades of the past century was a regional centre for promoting bullfighting, an art that has always been associated to this family.

The house was restored without losing the proprietors' bull breeding spirit, maintaining the traditional architecture and details of its history. Attention was given to the lighting and the colours, creating aristocratic and comfortable spaces.

The rooms, named after different cattle breeds, have big windows, period furniture, tapestries and English style textiles. The bathrooms are large, with high ceilings and display original colour schemes.

Take the opportunity to read a book in the library, enjoy a coffee on the terrace, dive into the small pool or rest in the glass-sheathed galleries, always in the capable hands of a smiling and attentive team.

Colour and tradition in an ambiance of aristocratic style.

The hotel Hospes Amérigo was born in the former Dominican Convent of Alicante, the capital of Spain's Costa Blanca, after a history that is characterised by various transformations. From being a convent it became an office block and was later converted into a block of apartments.

This space has been completely restored and renovated. The Amérigo now combines the sober character of its past with the most recent avant-garde tendencies in interior design. The outcome is the creation of a contemporary innovative and elegant atmosphere which inspires and tranquilises.

The hotel offers you comfortable rooms that are fully equipped, sauna, solarium and an amazing rooftop terrace with a heated swimming pool and the city's secular castle in the background. For companies the hotel provides as well exclusive rooms for special meetings.

At the end of the afternoon, enjoy the delicious "tapas" at the bar while the chef prepares your dinner with the best quality ingredients. In the evening enjoy your night cap in good company at the piano-bar.

You may occupy your day by becoming acquainted with the Mediterranean surroundings and culture of Alicante, benefiting from the sun on the Paseo Marítimo, the sea at Postiguet beach or exploring the Medieval castle of Santa Bárbara.

Las Casas del Cónsul

- Europe
- Spain - Jaén - Úbeda

The Las Casas del Cónsul hotel is located in city of Úbeda, in Andalusia, a city whose wealth of historical buildings and emblematic monuments guaranteed its status as a World Heritage site.

The house dates from the 17th century and carries the Molina Family Crest, the most powerful family during the city's period of greatest splendour. Surrounded by large courtyards and walls that are hundreds of years old, its architecture is typical of the Renaissance and the atmosphere is surprisingly quiet.

The refurbishment was conceived to offer greater comfort and tranquillity to the guests, taking full advantage of the ample windows and high ceilings, of the tropical hardwoods and the walls of centuries-old stone. Ample public spaces were also created, designed for mingling and rest.

As in most Spanish houses of this period, the central courtyard, with its columns, is the backbone of the house, the centre around which the nobility's family-life would revolve. Today all the hotel's spacious and comfortable rooms open out onto this patio. There is still another patio with a magnificent garden that envelops the swimming pool in diverse flowers and trees and is an invitation to bathe in both the sun and the water.

Both the most modern commercial area and the city's historical centre can be found in the vicinity of the hotel, the ideal setting for enriching cultural strolls that will perfectly complement your stay at the Las Casas del Cónsul.

A photograph of a three-story Mediterranean-style villa with a light-colored stucco facade. The villa features arched windows and doorways, some with small balconies. A prominent balcony with a white balustrade is on the upper floor. In the foreground, a swimming pool with a wooden deck and metal ladders is visible. The pool reflects the villa and the surrounding greenery. A large, leafy tree stands in the courtyard, and a palm tree is visible on the right side of the frame. The sky is blue with some clouds.

Protected by the historical buildings of Cordoba, one discovers the Palacio del Bailío, a listed monument of cultural interest and a magnificent hotel that brings design, history, space and light into harmony.

Built between the 16th and 17th centuries this palace was renovated and redecorated in a modern style, evolving in time without losing the charm of its past. Valuable original paintings and archaeological traces were restored and the former stables, barns and coach houses were also recuperated.

This attractive contrast between the old and the new is visible throughout the building, in the shared and leisure areas, like the restaurant or the bars, but also in the design of the comfortable rooms.

The aromatic and welcoming inner courtyards, replete with lemon and orange trees, as well as the Bodyna Spa situated in the former Roman baths that served as the inspiration for the massages and treatments offered, all deserve highlighting.

Either strolling or cycling through the narrow streets, admire the white walls and colourful patios and appreciate the testimonies of the Roman and Arab cultures that passed through the city. The Palacio del Bailío and Cordoba invite you to travel through time.

Hotel Casa de Carmona

- Europe
- Spain - Seville - Carmona

Since 1561 there has been a Renaissance palace in the historical Spanish city of Carmona. After careful and detailed restoration, the ruins of this palace were transformed into the luxurious and distinguished Hotel Casa de Carmona.

The main goal of this restoration was to preserve all the palace's details and original spaces dating back to the 16th century, incorporating elements of modern comfort that would not interfere with the building's classical style.

The decor, inspired by the Renaissance architecture, combines the Arabic style with several other influences. The rooms reflect these perfect combinations with the convergence of period furniture and original canvasses and paintings. All the spaces are grandiose, special reference is due to the four indoor patios, all with fountains and replete with flowers.

At the restaurant, lodged in the palace's former stable, the tables are British, the chairs were crafted by a famous carpenter from Carmona, the dishware is from Seville and the cutlery is imported from Cagliari. A luxurious combination that perfectly combines with the refined and traditional cuisine.

The geographical environment is an open invitation to visit the museums and monuments of the historical centres of the cities of Carmona and Seville. A walk through nature is also highly recommended at the Doñana natural park.

Live like royalty and savour Renaissance luxury.

Hospes Las Casas del Rey de Baeza

Located on a historical building in the tourist centre of the vibrant city of Seville, the hotel Las Casas del Rey de Baeza, is surprising due to the sophisticated and accomplished mixture of elements from the past with those from the present, as well as also reflecting the best that the Arabic and European styles have to offer.

The contrasting balance between pure, immaculate tones of white and blue, with a few shades of ochre and reds, that are characteristic of the region of Andalusia, are notoriously present in every corner.

The rooms reflect a contemporary ambiance invaded by natural colours that recreate modern and relaxing environments. The furniture take on a chocolaty hue and the floor is covered in stone. Through the air a warm intimate light wanders.

The comfortable living room and the charming library are ideal for moments of rest or for reading. On the top floor there's the delightful terrace, the perfect spot for refreshment at the pool with a magnificent view over the Giralda.

A few steps from the hotel, museums and historical monuments beckon the imperative walks through the Barrio de Santa Cruz to the Cathedral or the Giralda. For dinner, enjoy great service and savour the unforgettable tastes of the region, a speciality of the restaurant at the hotel.

Hospes Palacio de los Patos

- Europe
- Spain - Granada

In the centre of Granada a unique neo-classical building from the second half of the 20th century stands out, presently converted into the surprising hotel Palacio de los Patos.

Part of the city's cultural and historical heritage, this palace has undergone intense restoration work to recover its glow and charm of yesteryear in order to now envelope us in an atmosphere of stylish magic.

The fusion of classical and original architecture with modern design details is pure genius. The rooms and spaces are ample, bright and perfect, replete with luxurious and comfortable details. The service is refined and exceptional.

Savour a meal at the gastronomic restaurant, relax in the terrace or at the bar, admire the Arabic gardens and get carried away by the sensations evoked by the Spa treatments.

Getting acquainted with Granada is obligatory. Walk through the white marble swans that guard the entrance to the palace and set out to discover the city, the rich cathedral, the picturesque Jewish quarter and the millenary Alhambra. In the distance Sierra Nevada comes into sight, a point of departure for intense sports activities both in the Winter and the Summer.

Find luxury and lose yourself in pure nature.

Deep in the heart of Andalusia, between the towns of Cordoba, Malaga, Seville and Granada, is the luxurious hotel La Bobadilla, fruit of the philosophy and vision of the famous architect from Granada, Jesús del Valle.

Perfectly in harmony with nature, this hotel can be found in a magnificent 350 hectares private sanctuary, replete with hills and valleys covered in wild flowers, aromatic herbs, olive trees, almond trees and holm oaks. This paradise is also home to several species of birds and deer that may be seen during hikes, cycling or horseback riding.

The different areas of the hotel are linked by picturesque labyrinthine pathways, courtyards filled with flowers and an overwhelming marble colonnade. The interior is characterised by the luxury and comfort present in all spaces and rooms, each reflecting its own unique architecture and decor.

During your stay, savour either the traditional Spanish cuisine or the haute-cuisine at one of the hotel's two distinct restaurants and also enjoy the different fitness centre programs developed especially for you.

Be sure to take advantage of La Bobadilla's fantastic location and set out to discover legendary cities and Andalusia's wonderful monuments.

Hotel Rural Sant Ignasi

- Europe
- Spain - Balearic Islands - Menorca

On the island of Menorca, surrounded by gardens replete with centenary and exotic species of trees and covering a vast 38 hectares, the Sant Ignasi rural hotel, is the ideal place to enjoy moments of tranquillity and rest in communion with nature.

The main building, which had once been the holiday home of an aristocratic family from the 18th century, has been transformed into a refuge at the guest's disposal, decorated according to the style of the architect Pedro Mayans.

The rooms, spread over three floors, recreate cosy, unique, colourful Mediterranean environments with some notorious British style influences. Some may offer a private garden, whilst others include a splendid balcony with views of the countryside, the Ciutadella and its bay.

Of unparalleled location, the guests will find themselves a mere step away from the island's exuberant beaches and will have at their disposal a large number of outdoor activities, like walks, horseback riding and water sports.

For the true gourmet a visit to Es Lloc, the Sant Ignasi restaurant, is recommended. There the dinner can be delighted by dishes that combine the traditional delicacies of Menorca with the best signed cuisine. Afterwards, perhaps a cultural tour to visit all the Pre-historical monuments, the centennial cathedral and the town's various charming palaces.

Appreciate the tranquillity of a refuge in harmony with nature.

Son Mas, a charming rural hotel integrated into 17th century buildings, completely restored and adapted to the comfort of modern times, is nestled in the rural tranquillity of a 20 hectares farm and just a few kilometres away from Porto Cristo in Mallorca.

The farm's landscape, unaltered by the passage of time, includes centuries old holm oaks and olive trees, as well as orange trees amongst the other fruit trees in the orchard. At the hotel an old windmill and a former look-out tower stand out. The austere walls and the stone fences should also be highlighted, conferring an image of solidity and security.

All the rooms, of ample sizes, with a sitting room and a terrace or a balcony, are individually decorated and styled, with a combination of antique furniture and practical contemporary design.

Enjoy walking, cycling or diving into the refreshing swimming pool surrounded by almond trees. On colder days, there's an interior heated swimming pool, the sauna or a relaxing massage to try.

Son Mas is just minutes away from tiny beaches and bays and very close to golf courses. The activities are limitless and include water sports, hot-air balloon rides, cultural excursions or even unforgettable visits to surprising caverns.

Close to the City of Palma on the island of Mallorca the hotel Hospes Maricel stands out. Established in an elegant stately house inspired by the regional architecture of the 16th and 17th century it awe-inspiringly faces the sea.

In the recent past the building has been the venue for great celebrations and select international events, which now contrast with the tranquil mood of a hotel conceived to cater to the well-being of its customers and to optimise the never-ending horizon.

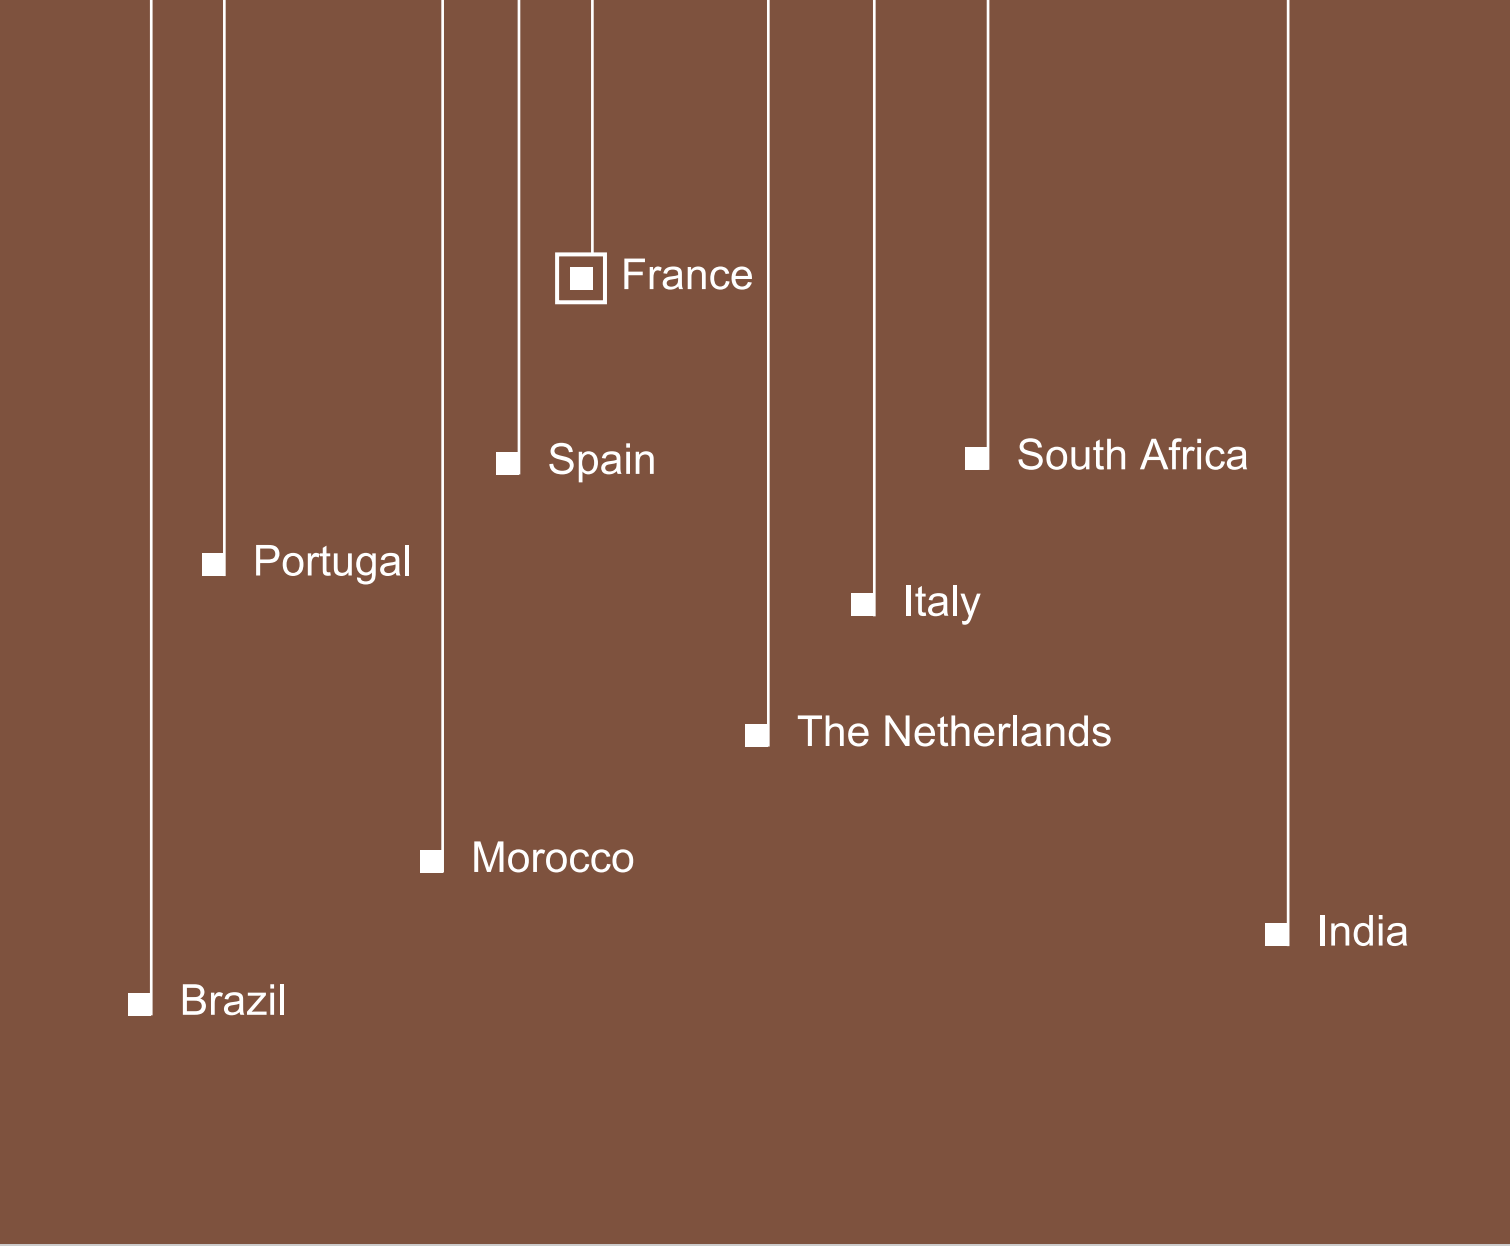

All the rooms are comfortable, spacious and bright, and also benefit from simple design and light hued textures. Looking through your window, the sun setting on the crystalline Mediterranean is sure to amaze.

Picture yourself enjoying a heavenly breakfast overlooking the sea shortly followed by a dip in the panoramic swimming pool that effortlessly blends into the sky. Now, imagine the sensations of an oriental massage in a small cavern after having arrived at the hotel's private pier in your boat. At the Maricel this is a reality.

Nonetheless don't forsake a stroll through the island of Mallorca to uncover its natural secrets, the invitation of a refreshing swim at one of the numerous beaches nestled into tiny coves or the fantastic caves where you may even listen to a unique musical concert.

Hotel Le Lavoisier

- Europe
- France - Paris

In the heart of Paris, near the Rue Saint Honoré, between the Place de la Madeleine and the Saint Augustin Church, lies an elegant mid-19th century building, the distinguished Hotel Le Lavoisier.

Inside one finds innovative and contemporary interior design characterised by pastel hues and neo-classical furniture that create a feel of charm and serenity.

The renovated and fully equipped rooms were decorated with the exacting needs of today as well as the comfort and the well-being of the guests in mind. The rooms display warm welcoming colours that are harmoniously matched with paintings and distinctive antique furniture, and some even have their own private terrace.

The Hotel Le Lavoisier's central location is perfect for discovering the vibrant and luminous Paris, exploring the Champs-Élysées, visiting the Place de la Madeleine and Concorde, shopping at the main couturier's stores on the famous Rue Faubourg Saint Honoré and savouring the specialities of French cuisine.

Details of luxury and elegance.

In Paris, two steps from the Champs-Élysées and the Arc du Triomphe, stands the intimate and luxurious Hospes Lancaster, a hotel rich in history and a favourite with royalty and with the art and show business celebrities.

The building was built in 1889 for Spanish nobility and was later acquired by Emile Wolf, the famous hotelier responsible for its transformation and inauguration as a hotel in 1930. In 1996 it was again remodelled according to the philosophy of its creator, the perfect harmony between the old and the new.

The interior holds a vast collection of artworks and antiques, from clocks to candelabra, including tapestries, crystal and porcelain. Utmost attention to detail has been given and one experiences a classical and elegant setting, replete with comfort and good taste.

At La Table du Lancaster, a restaurant of more modern lines or at the adjacent Zen garden, a gourmet experience is recommended. Michel Troisgros, the chef, has taken his inspiration from his travels and origins in Italy to create a menu with a characteristic style that surprises with its lively, remarkable and sharp flavours.

Become acquainted with the Hospes Lancaster, witness its attentive service and experience the charm that captivated King Humberto of Italy, Marlene Dietrich, Greta Garbo or Sir Alec Guinness. Accept the invitation to be the next famous person to stay at the suites with a view onto the Eiffel Tower.

• France - Megève

Framed by the French Alps and deep in the heart of glamorous Megève, Hotel Mont-Blanc sits a luxurious mountain hotel that has been visited by numerous personalities for half a century.

Its updated decor reflects a brilliant combination of English and Austrian styles present in every detail, which has allowed authentic and comfortable spaces to be created with an atmosphere of elegance and distinction.

The gamble was to use furniture, objects and textiles that originated from Megève, warm colours and natural or manufactured materials. The rustic beauty of wood, for example, surrounds us throughout the hotel, from the cosy living rooms which inspire socialising in the evening, to the ample rooms which assure the perfect rest at the end of the night.

As relaxation for the body and mind we recommend the beauty treatments and the massages or if preferred, the sauna and jacuzzi provided by the Spa. To feed the palate, savour some of the culinary suggestions Hotel Mont-Blanc has for you.

The activities to perfect and at one's disposal are numerous. During the Summer we suggest golf, aquatic sports or horseback riding. In Winter, one can't avoid descending, in whatever way one prefers, the fantastic surrounding ski slopes.

Surrounded by history and located in the heart of Vieux Lyon, classified as a World Heritage site, Cour des Loges consists of four magnificent 14th, 15th and 16th Century buildings restored with sophistication.

The architecture is pure Renaissance and the contemporary interior design combines details from several epochs, bringing together the past and the present in a subtle mixture of rare elegance and creating a serene and seductive setting.

The rooms express a notorious concern for the guest's well-being and the eclecticism of styles continues to surprise. The spaces are luxurious and distinguished, the evidence of the buildings' history was preserved and has been complemented by details of comfort and modern charm.

Achieve relaxation by enjoying the small swimming pool, the sauna or a massage with a splendid view of the gardens. Savour a drink at the bar before an exceptional dinner, prepared with the finest natural produce by the chef and his team, full of tradition and imagination.

All around Cour des Loges, there are several obligatory walks to take in Medieval and Renaissance Vieux Lyon and its beautiful museums and monuments. The specialities of the regional cuisine should not be neglected either since this region is considered the world's gastronomy capital.

During the brief period when Florence was the capital city of Italy the Hotel Regency received ministers and high government officials. Today, this elegant five star hotel offering attentive and personalised service is your retreat in the heart of Florence.

Located in a tranquil area of the city, a short distance from its centre and overlooking the pretty Piazza D'Azeglio, this attractive 19th century building maintains the character and charm of the past intact.

Inside, the atmosphere is refined, with the antique furniture, the elaborate fabrics or the numerous artworks that adorn the spaces all deserving special mention. The rooms are exquisitely comfortable and offer all that is needed to satisfy the demands of the present.

To savour both traditional Italian and regional Tuscan cuisine the hotel restaurant, Relais Le Jardin, is recommended as the place to delight in the aromas and flavours of the lunches and dinners conceived by the chef. To relax or to have a drink at the end of the day, the cosy and private hotel garden is recommended.

The surrounding monumental Florence, with its rich heritage of museums and monuments invites on to embark on cultural strolls in search of its artistic treasures and of the contrasts between the past and the present. Set out to discover the Hotel Regency too.

Next to the beautiful gardens of Villa Borghese and hidden away in the exclusive Parioli neighbourhood in Rome, the Hotel Lord Byron stands a luxurious and private refuge located just a couple of paces from the city's main attractions.

This hotel resulted from the refurbishment of a private mansion and received the name of the famous 19th century poet, Lord Byron, who found inspiration for some of his literary works in Italy.

The design is a portrait of 1930s Art Deco which confers a unique and elegant tone alongside the comfort of a private home. The rooms adopt the same style, and naturally, they also offer all the modern comforts.

Sapori, the Lord Byron's gourmet restaurant, counts on the talent of its chef and on a selection of the finest ingredients to present magnificent regional specialities. From the starters to the desserts, including the award-winning wines in the cellar, everything is delicious.

During your stay at the Eternal City of Rome be sure not to miss the liveliness of Piazza di Spagna or the Trevi Fountain, the grandness of St. Peter's Basilica, the Colosseum or the hospitality at the Hotel Lord Byron.

155 Via Veneto

- Europe
- Italy - Rome

Situated on the most famous avenue in the city of Rome, the boutique hotel 155 Via Veneto, is presented as a luxurious, intimate and private refuge with a characteristic elegance and captivating charm.

The interiors reflect the warmth and elegance of famous French 1900s designer Jacques-Emile Ruhlmann's Art Deco style. The geometric furniture's precious and rare wood, the combination of authentic stone with wood on the floors of the common areas, as well as the marble in the bathrooms are some of the exceptional features.

Most of the rooms face Via Veneto, whilst the suites on the top floor also benefit from spacious terraces and superb views over the city.

The Art Deco design is continued and is comfortable and replete with fantastic touches of luxury.

The charm of the Lounge Bar and the refinement of the restaurant contribute to the hotel's welcoming and chic ambiance. The pleasure of which is also heightened by the professional and attentive service of the entire hotel team.

Ascend this avenue, a symbol of Rome's Dolce Vita, wander through the restaurants and cafés, enter into the shops of famous designers and venture into the history of the city as you head towards the 155 Via Veneto hotel.

A refuge of style, irresistible charm and chic elegance.

Nestled on a cliff overlooking the sea in the beautiful town of Positano, the pearl of the Amalfi Coast in southern Italy, the elegant Le Sirenuse hotel welcomes you with the comfort of a private home and the service of a luxury hotel.

The Le Sirenuse opened to the public in 1951, when the Sersale family decided to transform their summer home into a small boutique hotel. The following 50 years brought extensions and renovations without ever neglecting the well-being and traditional attention given to its guests.

The superb view onto the town and the mountains or onto the sea and the islands of the Sirens immediately stand out, either from the terrace by the pool, the restaurant or the rooms. Inside, the furniture and the antique paintings collected by the family, as well as the plants and flowers enveloping us are all worthy of mention.

Conceived by the famous architect, Gae Aulenti, the hotel's Spa and fitness centre, designed in a modern style which contrasts with the building's 18th century Baroque style, offer the perfect scenario and treatments for rejuvenating mind and body.

In the morning stroll through the streets of Positano, along the mountain trails or enjoy the hotel's private boat. During the afternoon take advantage of the tours to Amalfi, Ravello or Pompei. - Italy - Capri - Anacapri

In the charming and attractive town of Anacapri, on the most exclusive part of the island of Capri in Italy, is the luxurious Capri Palace, located on the foot of Mount Solaro on a place with superb views over the Mediterranean Sea.

Dating from the mid 20th century, the hotel was recently refurbished. This process involved considerable alterations whilst still maintaining its classical Mediterranean style and conveying a noble and distinguished design which can be witnessed on the palace's stone floor, its archways and the enveloping columns.

Inside one finds a welcoming atmosphere and utmost elegance, with the interior design based on white and gold, with fabrics in warm tones and where the contemporary art works from the hotel's collection stand out.

From the rooms and the suites there are views of the sea, the Bay of Naples or the Island of Ischia. Some of the suites have works by masters of abstract painting to be appreciated and in others private gardens with swimming pools can be enjoyed. However, all the suites personify pure charm.

During the day, either a stroll through the narrow and luminous streets of Anacapri or circling the island on one of the hotel's magnificent boats is highly recommended. - The Netherlands - Amsterdam

Built in one of Amsterdam's historical landmarks close to the Keizersgracht, one of the city's famous canals, The Dylan is an intimate retreat brimming with urban sophistication and personalized service.

For 150 years this place was home to the Dutch Theatre Academy until a fire destroyed it in 1778. After that it became the property of a Church charity project until the late 20th century when it was converted into a hotel.

The architectural refurbishment of the building respected the past and embraced its new future and the interior design conceived a set of welcoming spaces imbued with chic elegance. In the themed rooms, colours, textures and moods were intertwined to allow the visitor to experience unique and sensual settings.

Hidden away behind the building are a private patio with a small garden, a bar and a popular restaurant. The French inspired cuisine fuses traditional and modern elements to create dishes that are dramatic in their presentation and surprising in their flavours.

A short distance away, either on foot or on one of the hotel bikes, are the city's main attractions. Wander through picturesque streets and canals, enter Anne Frank's house or the Van Gogh museum, and discover the stores and cafés of the hospitable Amsterdam until the curtain fall at The Dylan.

Sublime Ailleurs

- Africa
- Morocco - Marrakech

Hidden away in a vast palm grove on the outskirts of bustling and mysterious Marrakech one finds the Sublime Ailleurs, a true oasis of style, serenity and hospitality.

This hotel consists of three luxurious residences of Moorish architecture where the emphasis has been given to space, light, comfort and the privacy of the guests. Each one has its own swimming pool, garden and unique style, two of which are Art Deco and the other is inspired by the Orient.

One enters these sophisticated spaces, where modernity is subtly combined with the tradition present in the talent of the local craftsmen who have built all the surroundings. The engraved ceilings, the marble and the wrought iron, the pieces in bronze and silver, the velvets and the silks, all bear witness to their art.

Daily, the two chefs prepare their gourmet meals with several ingredients grown on the estate of the hotel and creatively combine Moroccan flavours with Mediterranean ones. In the late afternoon the butlers will serve a refreshing tea in the tranquility of the garden or on the terrace with a view from the palm grove all the way to the Atlas mountains.

The personalised service offered by a discreet, attentive and smiling team is exceptional and contributes greatly enriching this sublime experience.

A natural sanctuary and a luxury retreat.

Hidden away in a natural paradise of over 1,000 hectares in Knysna, on South Africa's exquisite Garden Route, is the Pezula Resort Hotel & Spa, a luxury retreat designed to maximize the contact with its surroundings and created in perfect harmony with nature.

In the contemporary African style suites, the warmth of the textures of the wood and stone can be felt. These earth tones and warm colours contrast with the greens and blues that dominate the landscape. From the balconies, we see either Knysna lagoon, the golf course or the Indian Ocean.

The Spa also reflects the soul of Africa in its natural elements and textures, as well as in its products based on extracts of indigenous plants and flowers. Its state of the art equipment and professionals guarantee an experience of pure well-being.

At Zachary's, the restaurant, in an intimate and elegant atmosphere, we order from an ethnic and modern menu. The ingredients, from the vegetable and herb garden, become unique dishes of local inspiration, while from the private wine cellar South African and International wines have been selected to accompany them.

During the day we can play golf or tennis, enjoy horseback riding, canoeing or sunbathe on the secluded Noetzie beach, visit the Sinclair nature reserve and discover the natural fauna and flora that surround us.

Toca da Coruja was born next to the beach in 1991 when Pipa in Natal was still a small and unknown fishing town. It is nestled in a vast area of fruit trees and tropical gardens, protected by monkeys, iguanas and humming-birds.

This hotel has followed the development of the region and has also grown with it, becoming even more welcoming yet retaining its rustic charm, refinement and the simplicity that make it distinct.

The accommodation is distributed throughout bungalows and chalets that are harmoniously integrated into the garden and decorated with pieces of traditional handicrafts that can be purchased in the shop. For relaxation, there are the typical Brazilian hammocks on the balconies and in the luxury rooms there are the hydromassage tubs in classic style.

Besides the restaurant that offers fusion dishes with regional flavours, there is also a bar that serves the swimming pools, a steam sauna, a gym area and small rooms for games and reading.

Surrounding this refuge there is the ideal beach for perfecting a tan or diving into the tepid waters, an ecological sanctuary with trails to explore or exciting buggy rides to experience. Before returning to Toca da Coruja, the evening can also be livened up in the bars and discos of Pipa.

of the Brazilian capital of joy.

Pousada Convento do Carmo

Located in the Pelourinho, in Salvador da Bahia's historical centre, the Nossa Senhora do Carmo Convent dating from 1586 was the stage of historical events, like the Dutch invasion and the independence of Bahia.

From the refurbishment of this imposing convent, a crucial piece of Brazilian colonial architecture, the Pousada Convento do Carmo was born, a place where past and present meet assuring an unforgettable stay.

Revitalising Spa therapies, unique spaces for events or meetings and a restaurant focusing on the tradition of refined Portuguese cuisine relying on the presence of local flavours, are all at your disposal always within a sophisticated atmosphere.

The day may begin under the sun by the swimming pool or on one of the heavenly beaches of the endless coast. After an afternoon of relaxation and reading in the convent's ancient cloisters, the evening may be completed in the exquisitely decorated, contemporary and comfortable rooms.

Dive into the surrounding culture and visit the city of Salvador renowned for its 365 churches without missing the historical centre that has been declared a World Heritage site.

Brava Hotel

- America
- Brazil - Búzios - Armação de Búzios

Located on a cliff facing Brava beach in Búzios, Brazil, the contemporary Brava Hotel with its New Mexico style and innovative architecture for the region is the creation of Marcelo de la Peña.

The overall mood of the spaces is one of tranquillity and relaxation, where the light colours of the various fabrics contrast with the browns of the wood used in the decor. Inside, the extravagant doors and high ceilings stand out, on the outside emphasis falls on the swimming pool's panoramic terrace with superb views of the horizon.

In the rooms, distinctly minimalist in style, a similar view onto the hills and the sea can be appreciated, especially from the vast terraces belonging to the spacious presidential lofts.

At the restaurant, international cuisine is served and at the lobby's ample bar one has the opportunity to enjoy a drink whilst listening to live music. The hotel also has space available for work meetings and special events can be organised on the grounds.

Enjoy the private boat trips along the coast whilst appreciating the numerous beaches and savouring a romantic lunch. In the evening head to the Rua das Pedras and join the excitement of the vibrant Búzios night life.

Enjoy days at the beach and chill out nights.

The Pestana Angra is imbedded in the ecological paradise of Angra dos Reis, only two hours away from Rio de Janeiro. It is a small and luxurious resort rich in surprising details.

Perfectly framed by the crystalline sea and the luxurious Atlantic woods that surround it, this hotel with its rustic architecture was projected to guarantee the greatest comfort in harmony with nature.

The charming and ample rooms are in bungalows nestled into the vegetation. They all have a view of the sea and have been well equipped. In some there are even private relaxing saunas or jacuzzis to try.

The common spaces leave no one indifferent. On the restaurant deck, which serves regional and international food, one can begin the day with a breakfast replete with fresh and varied produce. At the bar of the panoramic swimming pool, with a fantastic view onto the bay, one can end the day enjoying nibbles or exotic drinks.

Angra dos Reis is one of the most exclusive and privileged regions of the Brazilian coast with overwhelming scenery which invites the practice of water sports and hikes to explore the islands, all of which can be efficiently organised by the hotel.

Rambagh Palace

- Asia
- India - Jaipur

Through the 47 acres of lush green and ornamental gardens, one can glimpse Jaipur's Rambagh Palace in India, a palace hotel that offers its guests a taste of royal living. A luxury and extravagance that was once a sole preserve of kings.

Originally built for the queen's favourite handmaiden, this palace was converted in 1835 into the royal family's hunting lodge. From 1925 to 1957 it became the official residence of the region's maharaja, later becoming a hotel.

The interior of the palace was refurbished in keeping with its historical heritage, providing a glimpse into the lifestyle of the royals. The richness of the design in the public spaces and in the rooms, the magnificent beds, the high ceilings and the paintings on the walls stand out and reflect an architecture that seamlessly blends the best of Moghul and Rajput influences.

The hotel has at the guests' disposal several restaurants with dishes on offer range from international flavours to the most exotic and select from the royal kitchens of India. At the Spa traditional Indian treatments are offered as well as wraps or massages with aromatherapy, amongst the many perks you may wish to enjoy.

For sports enthusiasts, the hotel has a fitness centre, tennis and squash courts, a jogging circuit and a neighbouring golf course. For culture enthusiasts, the region is rich in history and invites visits to forts, temples and palaces, without neglecting the labyrinths of bazaars and the picturesque streets of Jaipur, the Pink City.

A majestic palace where the West and the East merge.

Umaid Bhawan Palace

The imposing Umaid Bhawan Palace and its vast gardens emerge like an oasis atop Jodhpur. Partially converted into a luxury hotel, it is one of the last great palaces of India and one of the largest residences in the world.

Its construction, a measure undertaken by the Maharaja Umaid Singh to provide work for the population in a time of drought and famine, began in the 1930's and was completed 15 years later. Since then it has been the official residence of the Jodhpur Royal family.

The architecture, conceived by Henry Lanchester, fuses western and eastern influences, with special mention due to the central dome with a Renaissance spirit or the Rajput influenced towers. The interiors honour the tradition of luxury associated to Indian palaces and the decor follows the Art Deco style of the time. The rooms and royal suites also offer a fusion of cultures with all the comforts imaginable.

For dinner the hotel's restaurants are tempting suggestions, both serve international flavours, well accompanied by local specialities. At the Risala the atmosphere is elegant and refined, while at The Pillars the charm, the views to the gardens and the Meherangarh Fort all stand out.

To enrich your stay, take delight in the exclusive and relaxing treatments of the Taj Spa. The massages and therapies, intensified with the aromas of Indian oils and experienced in this royal setting, will feel rejuvenating and make your whole experience at the Umaid Bhawan Palace even more unforgettable.

Taj Lake Palace

- Asia
- India - Udaipur

In Udaipur, India, inserted into an idyllic setting with the Aravali Mountains as backdrop and enveloped by the tranquil waters of Lake Pichola, the Taj Lake Palace emerges, a majestic palace of mosaics and white marble and a sumptuous dream hotel.

Built on a small island in the mid 18th century the palace still retains to this day the inheritance and traditions of the rulers of the region. It is difficult not to marvel at the corridors, patios, lakes, gardens and fountains that welcome us with the memories, luxuries and extravagances of an era gone-by.

Most of the rooms share the benefits of these surroundings with the interior lake or the mountains in the background, the palaces on the neighbouring island or the city in view. The comfort and period design, with rich fabrics, intricate wood carvings or colourful murals all create an unforgettable royal atmosphere.

Give the exquisite Indian food selected from the region of Rajasthan a chance, or if you prefer less exotic flavours there is also a restaurant offering international cuisine. Select a special place in the hotel to dine and the Royal Butlers will do all to serve you princely wherever you wish.

Your stay will be incomplete without surrendering to the care of the Royal Spa, offering several treatments based on centuries-old techniques of health and well-being, and without attempting yoga and meditation. When the time to leave arrives, you will continue to look back in order to once again admire this precious Indian jewel.

Relax, meditate and float in this dream palace.
